

ABSTRACT OF THE DISCLOSURE

A fluid filtration device utilizing envelope constructed of a frangible material and forming a closed interior chamber for holding a charge of volatile scented material. A flexible shield encloses the envelope and is permeable in a controlled manner to the volatile scented material once the envelope has been shattered.

1005-0130